Message from the Editor

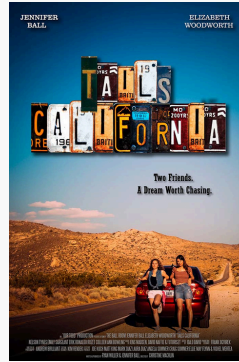

Summer may be winding down, but there's still time to deliver standout entertainment across your screens. Feature blockbuster movies, concert specials, and seasonal favorites to keep guests engaged during their final summer sailings.

Use the longer daylight hours to your advantage to schedule outdoor content to align with peak foot traffic and scenic moments. Whether guests are relaxing in-cabin or gathering on deck, this is your chance to leave a lasting impression with high-impact programming.

And for itinerary-specific inspiration check out our destination of the month, the Norwegian Fjords! The days are still wonderfully long there, giving you plenty of time to explore and relax.
